LaVona Andrew, MA, CI, CT, NIC: Master, Ed:K-12, is a life-long learner, interpreter and educator. As a native ASL user and sign language professional, she maintains a full interpreting schedule, teaches workshops, and develops training for spoken language and sign language interpreters. Her specialties include sign-to-voice, mental health, performing arts, and video interpreting. She has served on Deaf Center of Idaho's Board of Directors, the Idaho Deaf Mental Health Task Force, the Educational Interpreter Interagency Consortium, the Idaho Interpreter Licensure Task Force, and is a past president of IdahoRID, as well as serving on RID's Board of Directors. In 2017, Idaho's governor appointed her as the first interpreter to the Speech, Hearing and Communications Licensure Board. LaVona is passionate about providing development opportunities for interpreters while ensuring appropriately qualified and credentialed interpreters for the Deaf community.
